Land Acknowledgment Reading:

Al Leopold read the acknowledgement.

C-19 Project:

Commissioners shared how the workshop worked and explained the artists, Stuart Nakamura, intent. Stuart intended to reflect the natural world that encompasses the resilience of Everett residents. Tyler will send out a survey to gain more information from Everett residence. The survey will ask similar questions to the workshop so that Stuart can gain more perspectives from those who couldn't attend.

Everett Station District Alliance:

There was a committee meeting with ESDA that addressed the possible paving of infrastructure such as local underpasses. The paving will receive funding from the Everett Forward Grant program. The ESDA would like to partner with public works to gain resources for future art initiatives.

Fourth of July:

The event programming is now fully booked, and operations planning is in progress. The marketing of the event and shuttle will occur after the Sorticulture event has concluded.

Sorticulture:

The event planning is almost concluded, and we have gained more revenue than in past years which we hope to disperse to other events.

Diversity Wheel:

An activity was conducted. The commissioners participated however further implementation of the tool is unknown at this time. There is still confusion amongst the commissioners of the relevancy of the tool.

Wendt Awards:

Thursday, May 12th 7:00 PM begins the ceremony with the social hour preceding at 6:00 PM. Commissioners are asked to participate, and volunteers are needed to help stock food.

Councilmember update:

There were no council updates for this meeting.

Updates from commissioners:

No updates for this meeting.
