PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, each year, thousands of American workers lose their lives due to injuries sustained on the job; and

WHEREAS, four of those workers were killed in Snohomish County; and

WHEREAS, many more workers survive their injuries, but may become permanently disable or ill; and

WHEREAS, every year we acknowledge these workers by gathering in honor of the Occupation Safety and Health Act anniversary for Workers Memorial Day; and

WHEREAS, these work-related tragedies highlight the fact that too many workers remain at serious risk of injury, illness, or death; and

WHEREAS, today we renew our efforts to seek stronger safety and health protections, better standards and enforcement, fair and just compensation, and the prevention of tragedies in the American workplace;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Cassie Franklin, Mayor of the City of Everett, do hereby proclaim April 28th 2018, as
