

2022 SCHOOL IMPACT FEES

School Impact Fees are required for all residential development establishing a new dwelling unit. The fees listed below are for 2022 and may change in future years. A developer may obtain a preliminary determination of the total impact fee before submitting an application, however, because impact fees are not subject to the vested rights doctrine, the fees actually paid by the developer will be the fees in effect at the time of building permit issuance, regardless of any preliminary determination. Other fees may be required for your development project, including traffic mitigation and system development fees for water and sewer connections.
